

SOUTHEAST ASIA: ASEAN Youth Meet to Map Out HIV/AIDS

February 10, 2010

Xinhua News Agency (02.10.10) - Wednesday, February 10, 2010

Youth delegates from Association of Southeast Asian Nation member countries are attending a two-day HIV/AIDS prevention conference in Vientiane, Laos, the Vientiane Times said today. The goal of the regional gathering, titled "Youth at Risk of HIV Infection," is to exchange information and share experiences in order to best meet prevention objectives, according to the newspaper.

Representatives hailing from Cambodia, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, Laos, and the Philippines are reporting on the impact of HIV/AIDS on young people in their respective countries.

See the topic on aegis.org